Urbanity, City and Town - as defined in the large English Oxford Dictionary:

Urbanity (from French 13-14th c. and Latin)

1. The character or quality of being urbane: courtesy, refinement, or elegance of manner; refined or bland politeness or civility (1535, in frequent use since 1825)
- †2. Conversation characteristic of well-bred townspeople; cheerful, witty or pleasant talk; polished wit or humour (1566, now obsolete)
3. The state, condition or character of a town or a city; life in a city; town-life (1549, in frequent use since 1893)

Of related interest: urban, urban district, urban drift, urban guerrilla, urban renewal, urban sprawl, urbane, urbanisation, urbanise, urbanism, urbanist, urbanite, urbanology, urbicide, urbiculture, urbs

Urbanity, City and Town - as defined in the large English Oxford Dictionary:

City (from Latin civitas : its primary sense was citizenship, the body of citizens, the community: only in later time was the word taken as = urbs, the town or place occupied by the community. The historical relation between the Roman civitas and civis was thus the reverse of that between our city and citizen, which however is that of the Greek polis and poliths.)

Urbanity, City and Town - as defined in the large English Oxford Dictionary:

2. A title ranking above that of town: a) used vaguely, or of ancient or foreign places of note, as capitals, or the like; b) In England a cathedral town or large and important borough, c) in Scotland and Ireland more vaguely, also of small bishop's seats; d) in US a town or collective body of inhabitants incorporated and governed by a mayor and aldermen, but applied in the newer states much more loosely; e) in the dominion of Canada a municipality of the highest class; f) City of refuge, in the Mosaic dispensation, a walled town set apart for the protection of those who had accidentally committed manslaughter. Holy City, Jerusalem, esp. in connection with pilgrims and crusades.

3. Often applied to Paradise or the dwelling of God and the beatified, as in Celestial city, Heavenly City, Holy City, City of God, the last being also the title of a famous work of St. Augustine describing an ideal city in the heavens

Urbanity, City and Town - as defined in the large English Oxford Dictionary:

Town (from tun etc. in old north west European languages, a fortified, fenced or hedged place, an enclosed place, also sometimes a garden)

†1. An enclosed place or piece of ground, an enclosure; a field, garden, yard, court (now obsolete), or †b)The enclosed land surrounding or belonging to a single dwelling, farm or manor (now obsolete)

2. The house or group of houses or buildings upon this enclosed land (now especially Scottish)

3. A (small) group or cluster of dwelling or buildings; a village or hamlet with little or no local organisation (now dialect)

Mahasiswa akan diekspos dengan kompleksitas perkotaan melalui berbagai topik dan problematika perkotaan dan permukiman. Diharapkan dengan menempuh mata kuliah ini mahasiswa mempunyai latar pengetahuan yang luas tentang dua aspek yaitu:

- (a) kajian perkotaan yang mendukung perancangan arsitektur di konteks perkotaan (architecture in urban context) dan
- (b) kajian permukiman untuk mendukung kemampuan analitis yang berguna bagi proses perancangan lingkungan permukiman. Mahasiswa akan belajar melalui kasus nyata perkotaan permukiman.

tujuan

- Mampu mendefinisikan problematika perkotaan modern, perkembangan teori / wacana perkotaan kontemporer serta perspektif kebijakan dan praktik perencanaan tata ruang.
- Mampu menerangkan kebijakan ruang kota yang terkait pada bangunan arsitektur dari sisi perencanaan dan perancangan kota, praktek perencanaan dan perancangan kota yang menjadi hukum positif di Indonesia serta prinsip-prinsip, peraturan dan standar perancangan lingkungan permukiman.
- Mengetahui teknik survei, pemetaan, metode analisis spasial sederhana, dan mengoperasikan piranti lunak bagi pemetaan.
